Wheatley Idol showcases local talent -- The 9th annual Wheatley Idol competition was held on Sunday, Aug. 5 at the Two Creeks Conservation Area. Around 380 people came out to take in the talents of the many competitors. The first place winners also received invitations to perform at the 153rd Comber Fair held this past weekend. 18-year old Amber Dubois of Windsor was the overall winner of the competition. She received the ultimate grand prize - a recording package valued at around $1,700 and an invitation to perform at the 4th annual Fantasy [\[MORE\]](#)

Wheatley Idol is just one excellent youth singing contest..... Two Creeks Conservation Area in Wheatley was home to the 9th annual Wheatley Idol Competition on Fish Fry weekend in the lakeside Chatham-Kent community. And it's just a really great contest that gets bigger and better each year and which is a huge credit to organizer Darla Janzen and her army of volunteers. This year, registration for the event filled up in 24 hours and the waiting list had to be closed down. Contestants came from across Southwestern Ontario to compete for a great prize package.....cktimes' would like to thank Darla for sending along the accompanying photos.....[\[PHOTOS\]](#)
